DEAN LAKE FARMER KILLED ON OAK ST.

HEAD CRUSHED WHEN CAR OVERTURNS IN DITCH; 3 ARE UNHURT

HENRY GORDON, 52, VICTIM; BILL MEIER, JOHN MEIER, JOE KAS-PAREK ESCAPE HURTS

PARTY REPRESENTED TOWN BOARD, ENROUTE TO CITY TO BUY SNOWPLOW

Henry Gordon, farmer, aged 52 years, a member of a party from the Town Board of Dean Lake on their way to Brainerd to discuss the purchase of a snow plow with county officials, was killed enroute at 11:30 A. M. today.

Gordon was dead when picked up after the car in which he and three others were riding sideswiped a truck said to belong to the Maxwell Coffee Co., and overturned in the ditch on Oak street about two and a half miles east of the city.

The victim's head was crushed, indicating he was killed instantly.

The other occupants of the car escaped unhurt with the exception of a few scratches. They were: William Meier, driver of the car, his father, John Meier, Joe Kasparek, all of Dean Lake.

The truck was forced into the ditch after the collision. Both vehicles were travelling towards Brainerd.

Gordon was a farmer at Dean Lake. He had lived there the past two years and is survived by his widow. He has no children.

Joe Kasparek stated he was riding in the back seat and that during the accident Gordon was thrown about the car, falling on him. He was forced to remove the dead man's body before he could arise.

All occupants of the car were members of the town board of Dean Lake with the exception of the driver who is a young man.

The accident was said to be partially due to the slippery pavement. The car struck the rear end of the truck, skidded on the pavement and rolled over in the ditch.

The motor of the car continued to run after the accident.

Coroner D. E. Whitney started an investigation of the circumstances of the death immediately this afternoon. He said that unless new evidence was secured other than what has already been given, an inquest would not be necessary.

Car Rolls Over in Ditch

John Pomrinke and A. M. Johnson of Alexandria escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon when their car overturned in the ditch on Oak street one mile east of the city.

The two were on their way to Brainerd from Superior where they had been on business. Their car was wrecked.

Other Accidents Reported

Slippery streets in Brainerd and icy pavements were blamed for several other mishaps today. Several cars received broken wheels in skidding against curbs on making turns while others clipped cars parked on the side of streets.

One car ran over the sidewalk on Sixth street, narrowly averting striking a pedestrian.

Rudy Brecht fractured his leg when he slipped while walking on the east sidewalk on Sixth street near Laurel street at noon today.

The placing of sand on streets occupied the attention of a large city crew today. This work resulted in a saving, it was estimated, of thousands of dollars from damaged cars.

HIGHWAYMEN OF AIRPLANES APPEAR AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Highwaymen of the airplanes appeared here today.

Two armed men bound and gagged a servicing attendant and flew away in a Bart Stephenson's maroon and yellow plane, No. NC-125-K, fueled and ready for a flight.

A telephone call, presumably from Stephenson, brought L. W. Coghill, the attendant, to service the machine. The bandits bound and gagged him, jumped into the ship and flew away into overcast skies, Coghill told police.

BILL TO PAY FAMILIES OF PERSONS KILLED BY FEDERAL AGENTS

Washington, Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Rep. Florence P. Kahn, republican, California, said today she would ask the house judiciary committee early in the regular session of congress next month to hold hearings on her bill to pay $25,000 to the families of persons killed by federal prohibition agents.

Mrs. Kahn said she intended to press vigorously her measure, which was introduced early this year in the special session, after several incidents of the kind which the bill would cover, including the slaying of Henry Virkula, at International Falls, Minn.

Soviet Halt 40 Mile Advance Into Manchuria

TWO BANDITS ROB CINCINNATI BANK OF $10,000 CASH

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Two bandits held up a branch of the Provident Savings Bank and Trust company here today and escaped with a sum estimated at $10,000.

BLUSTERING DAYS OF OLD BAD BILL CARLISLE RELIVED

SHERIFF'S POSSE OF COWBOYS ROAR AFTER YOUTHFUL TRAIN ROBBER

LATTER DERAILED UNION PACIFIC TRAIN NEAR CHEYENNE, ROBBING PASSENGERS

Cheyenne, Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—The blustering days of Bad Bill Carlisle were relived here today as a sheriff's posse of cowboys roared over the hills on the trail of a youthful train robber who derailed the Union Pacific's west-bound Portland limited last night and rifled the clothing of panic stricken passengers of $800. The search was reminiscent of the early days of the west when vigilantes pursued and captured the notorious Carlisle who terrorized passengers on the same road.

With the exception of two women, Mrs. Dora Witt, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Rub Green, negress, Chicago, the 60 passengers miraculously escaped injury when five passengers and two baggage coaches came to a halt against an embankment after leaving the tracks.

Union Pacific officials said the derailment was caused by spikes being withdrawn from a rail, and that it was only through the presence of mind of two brakemen that a catastrophe was averted.

The bandit, described by passengers as wizened and extremely nervous, climbed on the platform of the observation car, and went the entire length of the train robbing passengers. The lower part of his face was covered with a blue handkerchief and he wielded his revolver tremulously, between rough commands to "fork over the money in your pockets."

"I've got a wife and two kids at home and the railroad won't give me work," he apologized to his victims. Passengers said he was dressed in shabby clothes and was about 22 years old.

The highwayman confronted Dr. F. J. Kelly, president of the University of Idaho, Moscow, a passenger, and snarled: "Put them up pretty damned quick." The educator handed over his wallet containing $74.

The youth worked with precision. He ran down the aisle in each car, singling out the prosperous looking passengers, lining them up, and ordering them to be "quick about it."

"I'm in a hurry and don't keep me waiting," he said.

He robbed about ten passengers, but made no attempt to take jewelry from his victims. He leaped from the front coach, ran back, robbed several more passengers, and disappeared as mysteriously as he made his entrance, much in the same way Bill Carlisle would have done it a decade ago.

A. A. Inman, Portland, Ore., dining room steward, saved the receipts of his day's business, $300, by hiding in an express car.

Russell Grandy, North Platte, Neb., and H. E. Lowell were the brakemen credited with averting a tragedy by their presence of mind. Lowell ran down the tracks and flagged an east-bound freight train. Grandy ran back the locomotive, which fortunately did not leave the tracks, and flagged the Gold Coast limited, running on the west bound track.

DERANGED WOMAN ATTACKS ARCHBISHOP

Vatican City, Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—An attack on Archbishop John Smit in St. Peter's cathedral Sunday night was attributed by Vatican City authorities to the act of a deranged woman who had sought to obtain employment from the prelate. The woman leveled a revolver at the archbishop, but she was frustrated by Prince George of Bavaria. The woman was arrested by papal gendarmes and detained. Her name was given as Margret Ramstad Gudman, a Swede.

RUMORS OF MERGER OF WHEAT GROWERS

St. Paul, Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Confirmation could not be made here today of widely credited rumors that the Farmers' Union Terminal association of St. Paul and the North Dakota-Montana Wheat Growers' association of Grand Forks, N. D., had been merged.

Federal Prohibition Enforcement Agents Meet Cooking Utensil Barfage at Farm House

PRES. HOOVER GAINS SUPPORT OF INDUSTRY

UTILITIES LEADERS DISCUSS BILLION DOLLAR DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

BILLIONS OF DOLLARS OF NEW CONSTRUCTION PROMISED BY RAILROADS, ETC.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Every major section of the nation's industrial forces stood mobilized today for the big economic drive under the leadership of President Hoover.

As the president rested from his heavy round of business conferences, telegrams and letters coming in huge volume to the White House registered the new impetus which his leadership has given to the country.

Utilities leaders were meeting in New York today to discuss their potential $2,000,000,000 development program preparatory to a later conference here with the president.

The United States Chamber of Commerce is arranging for a general emergency business conference here December 5 when business will shoulder the task of carrying forward the work begun by President Hoover.

Never before in peace-time has a president mustered such an all extensive industrial drive. While in all quarters credit was given President Hoover for arousing new nation-wide optimism, the real test will come when business undertakes to carry forward the program now begun. Every factor favors success, in the opinion of economic experts here.

Billions of dollars in new construction have been promised by the railroads, the construction industry, general business, and federal, state and local governments.

Full buying power has been preserved though the action of heads of great industries in promising President Hoover there would be no wage cuts. Devastating labor troubles have been averted, it is believed, by the pledge of organized labor to abstain from trying to force new wage increases.

Farmers have promised to co-operate. With lower interest on farm loans predicted by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde following the farm conference at the White House yesterday, the millions of farmers are expected to go on with their normal purchases which amount to about $400,000,000 annually in farm implements alone.

Governors of most states have responded to the president's request that they initiate as much public construction as possible. More than $2,000,000,000 in road work is in sight, not including vast public building projects. The federal government has contributed enormous aid in the situation by promising a $160,000,000 tax cut, an increase in the federal building program, and new ocean mail contracts which will enable shipbuilding companies to start construction of forty merchant vessels.

One of the great achievements of the series of conferences in view here is the pledge of industries to keep wages up.

Never before has business adopted the long view doctrine that if sales are to keep up, the average citizen

Militant Hams, Pleading for Divorce, are Reconciled Again

Chicago, Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—The Ham vs. Ham divorce case is beginning to strike Judge Joseph Sabath as pretty funny.

"The case of Ham and," the judge said jocosely when it came up for the third time.

"It's not funny," protested William E. Ham, druggist, "Elizabeth and I really want a divorce this time."

"That's what you said the last time and the time before that," replied Judge Sabath. "You made up both times and you'll make up this time. Go home, both of you, and be good."

That cooked the Hams, for the time being, and they left arm in arm.

must have money with which to buy. Henry Ford went beyond this and announced a wage increase declaring the country's production has not begun to catch up with the demand—that only limited buying power held back industry.

Julius Barnes, who is a kind of economic Colonel House for the president, believes the average citizen is ready for two cars, two telephones and countless other conveniences, provided he can get the money to buy them.

In this view business has reversed its old penny-pinching policy. Time was, and not long since, when business, facing uncertainty, laid off employees, cut wages, and thereby threw the brakes on normal economic activity. Now it is seen the reverse should be encouraged, that employees should be enabled to buy more.

That this view should be put to practical application in a time of uncertainty is regarded as a historic achievement by many here.

The same theory now is being applied to agriculture. Though representatives of industrial states in congress in some cases still lean toward the view of Joseph R. Grundy, who felt agricultural states should "talk darned small," business has come to see that the farmers want automobiles, radios, electric washers, extra dresses for his daughters, and a new coat of paint on his barn. It has come to see in the farmer as great a potential customer of industry as the city wage-earner. All he needs is money.

Realization of this is an economic event which may go far toward enlarging the basis of American prosperity. This view was the fundamental thought running in the statement issued by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde after the White House farm conference. He said:

"The representatives assembled considered that agriculture has suffered and is now suffering to some extent, from high interest rates induced by the absorption of credit for speculative purposes. They felt that a concerted action by the credit agencies of the government is now possible, and that such action would reflect back to agriculture the lower interest rate. It was also the opinion of the conferees that the savings which might thus be made to agriculture by the lower interest rates would immediately be reflected back into the markets through the purchase of necessary equipment and supplies for the farm."

Hill, a rancher near here, married Mildred Richardson, who had been playing in "No, No, Nannette," within 10 minutes after he divorced his second wife in 1927. She was described by Ziegfeld as a "perfect American beauty."

POTS AND PANS HURLED AT THEM NEAR CROOKSTON

RETURN FOR REINFORCEMENTS, 10 BROTHER OFFICERS ARE ADDED TO FORCE

GERTRUDE MATT AND JOHN DEER ARRESTED ON CHARGES OF SALE OF LIQUOR

St. Paul, Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Federal prohibition enforcement agents returned to their headquarters here today to report being driven from a farm house near Crookston under the most unusual circumstances in their careers.

Two of the agents were sent to the farm with orders to investigate rumors that the establishment was maintained as a drinking club. As the agents entered the house they were met by a barrage of pots and pans that sent them flying from the premises.

None of the kitchen utensils struck the agents but both reported being narrowly missed by chairs and other articles of furniture as they fled across the lawn.

Returning to Crookston, the enforcement agents secured 10 brother officers for reinforcement, returned to the farm and arrested Gertrude Matt and John Deer on charges of sale, possession and maintenance of a liquor nuisance.

The raid was one of a series in 10 Minnesota communities in which 15 persons were arrested today and Monday.

BOBBY TROUT AND ELINOR SMITH FAIL IN ENDURANCE ATTEMPT

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Bobby Trout and Elinor Smith, prominent women fliers, ended a second unsuccessful attempt to break the world's refueling endurance flight record when they landed their airplane at Metropolitan airport at 3:01 a. m. today. They were in the air approximately 18 hours.

The fliers said that they were unable to locate the refueling plane in a fog.

Miss Trout and Miss Smith plan to take off on another attempt Thursday.

WALTER HILL SUED FOR DIVORCE BY HIS THIRD WIFE

Livingston, Mont., Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Walter Hill, youngest son of the late James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, has been sued for divorce by Mildred Richardson Hill, his third wife.

The suit was suppressed immediately after it was filed yesterday.

Hill, a rancher near here, married Mildred Richardson, who had been playing in "No, No, Nannette," within 10 minutes after he divorced his second wife in 1927. She was described by Ziegfeld as a "perfect American beauty."

ANGRY WOMAN ABANDONS BABE IN MOVIE THEATER

Newark, N. J., Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Murmuring "this brat will never let me sit through a show," an unidentified woman abandoned a three-week-old baby in a moving picture theater here.

LITTLE FALLS CITY BOOKKEEPING GIVEN CRITICISM

REPORT IS ISSUED BY HENRY RINES, STATE COMPTROLLER AND EXAMINER

NEW AND MORE COMPLETE SYSTEM OF AUDITING IS RECOMMENDED

St. Paul, Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—The general bookkeeping system, water department and city treasurer of Little Falls, Minn., were criticized in a report issued here by Henry Rines, state comptroller and ex-officio public examiner. No intimation of graft in the city administration was contained in the report, but a new and more complete system of auditing was recommended.

The report pointed out that the books failed to carry asset or liability accounts, and for that reason no attempt was made to set up a financial statement. It was recommended that an appraisal be made and the exact financial status be put on the books.

Present books of the water department were declared inadequate.

Lack of proper tornado and lightning insurance and a sudden decrease in the revenue from issuance of dog licenses also was questioned. It was recommended that proper tornado insurance be obtained for the $22,000 water tower and that both lightning and tornado insurance be secured for the city pump house.

It was noted that receipts from dog licenses declined from $194 in 1927-28 to $43 in 1929.

A larger bond for the treasurer than the $5,000 by which the city is now protected also was suggested. It was pointed out that at the time of the audit the treasurer's cash balance was more than $50,000.

The report covered examination of the city's books and affairs for the fiscal years ended March 31, 1928, and 1929. The audit was completed Aug. 5 last by W. R. Wilson and C. A. Edholm, state examiners.

C. R. Johnson, chief state examiner, signed the report and it was stamped by Rines.

4-YEAR-OLD BOY FIRED SHOT THAT KILLED HIS MOTHER

Batavia, N. Y., Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Four-year-old Elmer Schulz, Jr., admitted to police today that he fired the shot which killed his 26-year-old mother, who died yesterday. Her husband, a farmer, was held by police since her death. Police released him today when little Elmer, weeping, told how he pointed his father's shotgun at his mother, said playfully "I'm going to shoot you, mama," and pulled the trigger.

After coming home from hunting Sunday, Schulz had left the gun in the kitchen. He thought it was not loaded, he told police.

RUSS TROOPS AT TSGAN STATION ON EASTERN RAILWAY

STORY THAT HAILAR HAD BEEN CAPTURED IS NOW DOUBTED

AIRPLANES SENT OUT BY RUSSIANS ON SHORT BOMBING TRIPS

Harbin, Manchuria, Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—The reported Russian advance into Manchuria has halted about 40 miles over the border from the Soviet side, reliable advices reaching here said today.

The Soviet troops stopped at Tagan Station, which is 38 miles east of Manchuria on the Chinese Eastern railway. Manchuria is just this side of the border. The only sign of the Russians at Hailar, an important town further along the railway, was the appearance of Soviet airplanes.

Various rumors have been circulated in China and relayed to the United States concerning a "major invasion" of northwest Manchuria by the Russians, including a story that Hailar had been captured and was in flames, and that 12,000 Chinese had been killed. The above dispatch indicated no engagement of importance had taken place.

Harbin, Manchuria, Nov. 26.—Soviet troops advancing into northwest Manchuria have taken up a position west of Hailar, sending airplanes over the city on brief bombing flights, reports received here said today.

Reports that the Russians had occupied Hailar and that the city was in flames were discounted, since most of the houses in Hailar are largely non-inflammable and are scattered. It hardly could be fired except by methodical firing of each building.

Rumors were many but communication with Hailar was interrupted by the Soviet advance.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Dispatches from Harbin today reported part of the Manchurian town of Hailar burned by order of Chinese militiamen who apparently hoped to inconvenience Soviet Russia's reported invasion of Manchuria.

General Wan Fuais, dispatches said, ordered Chinese troops to aid any Americans who might be in Hailar if they desired to evacuate.

POSSIBILITY DAWNS OF PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

Tokio, Nov. 26.—Any peace negotiations to end the present Sino-Russian crisis will be conducted by the Chinese nationalist government at Nanking, Mukden officials announced today in denying reports that the Manchurian government was considering independent peace advances to terminate the Soviet invasions of the eastern and western Manchurian frontiers.

Several unconfirmed reports yesterday describing the evacuation of the city of Hailar, prominent center on the western section of the Chinese Eastern railway, were followed by rumors that Mukden was contemplating peace advances by approaching the Soviet consul at Dairen through the German consul at Mukden.

The foreign office had no confirmation of numerous dispatches stating that Hailar had been occupied by the Russians although it was confirmed that the Chinese troops were evacuating the city, presumably to take a more advantageous defense position to the east behind the great Khingan mountains. The latter indication was strengthened by the report that 40,000 Chinese troops had left Harbin westward to reinforce the retreating Hailar troops. Nippon Dempo News agency reports from Harbin stated the Soviets had established headquarters at Dailanor, west of Hailar, preparatory to occupying the city.

The extent of the Russian invasion of eastern Manchuria also was in doubt. The Nippon Dempo agency's Harbin correspondent reported that the Soviets had captured the fortress of Mishanshein near the border and apparently were preparing to advance on Mulin, further west toward the center of the Chinese Eastern railway.

Despite the various conflicting reports there seemed little doubt but that the Soviets were carrying out their announced intention of a general offensive along the Manchurian borders. Moscow announced officially nearly 10 days ago that it had been forced to take the offensive to defend itself against activities of the Chinese. Officials at Nanking so far generally have indicated a tendency to let Manchuria handle the Soviet problem, being more closely concerned with various revolts in the southern provinces of Kwangsi and Kwangtung.

Kwangsi troops, friendly to the famous "Ironside" division which refused to be disbanded at the order of President Chiang Kai-Shek, were reported to be planning an extensive invasion of Kwangtung with the city of Canton as their objective.

Reports from Hong Kong said the (Continued on page 8)

St. Francis Study Club

The St. Francis Study club met on Monday evening, November 25, at the home of Mrs. D. I. Ryan.

The topic "Religion and Citizenship" by Wendell Phillips Stafford L. L. D. was most interestingly reviewed by Miss Elizabeth Walsh. Miss Walsh's resume read in part: "The principles upon which citizenship is based are thus seen to be, fundamentally, religious principles. More than that, they are Christian principles. If the state shall be saved from shipwreck in the stormy passage before it, this will be because a sufficient number of its members still believe in and resolutely adhere to those principles."

The club will meet again December 9 with Miss Mildred O'Brien, 409 South Broadway. At this meeting the topic for discussion will be "Religious Liberty."

Crest of Career Reached by George O'Brien as the Hero in "Masked Emotions"

Never has George O'Brien, Fox Films player, appeared to better advantage; never has he been better photographed, and never has been better directed than he is in "Masked Emotions," showing at the Lyceum tonight and Wednesday.

O'Brien reaches the highest spot in his career in this picture. He gives a vivid and, at the same time, sympathetic interpretation of the role of a college man who sets out to avenge an attack on a chum by a ruthless Oriental and a band of coolies that is being smuggled into the United States.

As Bram Dickery, O'Brien is successful in solving several mysteries, and criminals are brought to sensational destruction.

An appealing love story develops during the action. Supporting O'Brien is Nora Lane, one of the most beautiful young women of the screen. She has a wonderful gift for expression and is accorded many opportunities for the display of her talent.

LIVESTOCK MEN TO HONOR ANDREW BOSS

To Pay Tribute Sunday Night at International Livestock Exposition

DR. W. C. COFFEY TO SPEAK

W. H. Tomhave to Present Oil Portrait of Dr. Boss to Club

Livestock leaders of the nation will pay tribute to Andrew Boss, University Farm, vice director of the Minnesota agricultural experiment station, when the American Society of Animal Production meets for its annual banquet, Sunday evening, December 1, at Chicago during the coming International Livestock Exposition. Pursuing an annual custom, the society has chosen Dr. Boss as its guest of honor and has arranged a program to emphasize his outstanding contributions to the livestock industry.

Dr. W. C. Coffey, dean of the department of agriculture, University Farm, will be one of the speakers who will tell of Dr. Boss' work. Two others will be men who were former students under Dr. Boss at University Farm, W. H. Tomhave, secretary of the American Aberdeen Angus association, Chicago; and A. J. Glover, editor of Hoard's Dairyman, Ft. Atkinson, Wis. The former will present an oil portrait of Dr. Boss which will be added to a distinguished collection hung on the walls of the Saddle and Siroin club where the banquet is held.

Dr. Boss is recognized chiefly for his studies in the field of farm management relating to the economic place of livestock in the farm business. As early as the 1890's he began to demonstrate the advantage of livestock for utilizing farm by-products and making profitable use of waste land. Since then he has taken a leading part in evolving the now generally accepted principles with regard to the real purpose of livestock in various types of farming.

Dr. Boss was a pioneer in arousing interest in livestock improvement among farmers and a quarter century ago helped establish the idea of cattle breeding circuits or "bull rings." He is likewise acclaimed as having been the first to include a study of meats and carcasses in animal husbandry courses. As a result, the University of Minnesota was the first institution of its kind to have an abattoir or meat laboratory.

Dr. Boss joined the staff of the University Department of Agriculture in 1891 as foreman of the experimental farm, but in 1902 he was made associate professor of agriculture in charge of livestock. From January 1905 to 1910 he was chief of the division of agriculture and animal husbandry. In 1911 he was made chief in agronomy and farm management which position he held until 1928, when he was relieved that he might give more attention to the expanding activities of the Minnesota agricultural experiment station which he has served as vice director since 1916.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

November 26, 1904

The new Ransford hotel is nearly enclosed and plumbers and steamfitters are at work and expect to have the plant ready to turn on steam as soon as the windows are nailed on.

The offices of Drs. Camp and Thabes have been refurbished and finished in new designs, presenting a handsome appearance.

Dr. O. T. Batcheller left today for Beatrice, Neb., where he will visit for a short time.

Judge M. A. Spooner returned from the Twin Cities this afternoon.

C. B. White and Editor Wieland went north again today for a few days hunting.

The Brainerd Brewing Company is building a large addition to its plant. What will probably be the most perfectly equipped chicken ranch in Crow Wing county is being erected by Bert Sabin, Jr., at his home on Mill street northeast. The house is very commodious and so arranged as to permit the keeping of several different flocks of chickens and keep all separate. There are many who will watch the experiment of extensive chicken raising in this section.

There is a report that the land on which the old Arlington hotel stood for so long will be utilized by the Northern Pacific for truckage purposes and that this portion of the company's right of way together with the property lying immediately west, between Sixth and Third streets, will form a part of the Northern Pacific yards in this city. It is said the move is made looking to the betterment of the yard facilities and ultimately to confine the yard to the company's right of way west of Sixth street.

Miss Pearl Loftus of St. Paul and Miss Eva Louise Cromwell of Staples have been guests of Mrs. J. A. Batchelder for a few days.

Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co.

Increases Dividends 25%

An increase of 25 per cent in the regular dividend rate of the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company was announced today by Charles S. Pearce, president of the company. A quarterly dividend of 62½ cents a share, or an annual dividend rate of $2.50 a share on the common stock, will be paid on January 7 to stockholders of record December 18, according to the company announcement. The former rate was $2 annually.

The directors, in voting the 25 per cent increase, took the position that the satisfactory progress of the company since the merger of the Palmolive-Peet Company and Colgate and Company, on July 1, 1928, justified the higher rate.

Sales records of the company will show an increase of all leading brands in 1929 over 1928, a statement issued by the company declared.

Commenting on the increase in dividend rate, Mr. Pearce stated:

"During the past six weeks we have often been asked for an opinion on business conditions, but have withheld our comment, until our ideas could take a more tangible form than mere words.

"The increase in our dividend rate is the best evidence of our faith in the business of the coming year."

JELLIES AND JAMS FOR SANITARIUM

Social Welfare Committee of Brainerd Musical Club Successful in Its Appeal

The Social Welfare committee of the Brainerd Musical club accomplished unusual results in their appeal for jars of jellies and jams for the Thanksgiving gift to the Deerwood Sanitarium. The goal was set at 300 jars of jellies and jams, but the result was greater. Too much credit cannot be given the women who worked so faithfully to raise this amount.

The following were the committee in charge: Mrs. John A. Hoffbauer, chairman, assisted by Mesdames J. E. Crust, O. B. Johnson, R. M. Sheets, C. E. Harting and Irma Camp Hartley.

The committee wished to thank the business men and grocers of Brainerd who responded so generously.

Brainerd Students on University Committees

THE Minnesota Daily, published by University of Minnesota students, and claimed to be the "world's largest college newspaper," in recent issues gives evidence of the fact that a number of Brainerd students are serving on prominent committees.

At the recent Dads Day, when Minnesota played Wisconsin, there was a banquet for the Dads in the Minnesota Union ballroom. Roger Dunn, senior in the College of Science, Literature and the Arts, was an associate chairman of the student committee and took the place of Lester Ashbaugh.

The Masquers' waiting list chosen for 1929-30, as recently announced by Fred Womrath, president of the organization, totals 84 students. They were picked from a group of 300 who tried out for membership the second week of the quarter. Initiation, to be held next spring, will be determined by a point system whereby credit is given for helping in any way on a Masquer production. Miss Helene Stadlbauer is on this waiting list recently chosen.

Choosing the theme, "The Dollar Abroad," the International Congress general committee has made preliminary arrangements for the third international congress to be held at the University of Minnesota some time in January. The international congress is sponsored by a group of foreign and American students and faculty members. Harvey Pinney, instructor in political science, is director of the congress. Colleges and universities of the north-west will be invited to send delegates. Besides the executive committee, various sub-committees and chairmen have been named. Albert Rathert was named chairman of publicity and registration.

Dude Ranches are Thriving

THE 1929 dude ranch guest list has the aspect of the social register of Park Avenue; a smart and sophisticated thing to do is to visit a dude ranch in Montana and Wyoming for the vacation period, according to M. M. Goodwill, general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, who spoke at the annual convention of the Dude Ranchers' association which was conducted at Billings, Mont., last week.

The dude ranch travel on the Northern Pacific in 1929 was one-third greater than in any previous year. Eighty per cent of the guests each year return the following year, Mr. Goodwill said. Outdoor living, adventure, and relief from the routine of city life affords a vacation which has such an appeal that no other vacation will satisfy.

Thanksgiving Skating

WITH the streets and sidewalks icy this morning, it looked as though provisions had been made for skating, whether one wished to indulge in the pastime or not.

However, there will be real skating for Thanksgiving at Lum park where the Park Board under the direction of Hugo A. Kaatz has provided a nice course in the bay near the pavilion, a snug place protected from the raw winds which may sweep over the lake.

It is hoped to maintain a course at least 400 feet long and 200 feet in width. There will be benches for putting on skates and provision has been made to permit cars to park near the lake. The circle rink will accommodate many skaters and it is believed young and old will take advantage of the opportunity offered by the Park Board to skate at Lum park.

Lake Sailors

SAILORS on ocean going vessels frequently look down upon the lake sailor, imagining he never has any difficulties to contend with and that a storm on the lakes is but a small affair compared with an ocean blow.

If the truth were known, any of the great lakes can kick up a greater, nastier gale than the ocean and it requires more skillful seamanship to avoid the rocks than to outride a storm in the ocean.

The recent storms on Michigan and Superior lakes and the toll of lives and ships lost is a sad commentary on what a fresh water lake does when aroused and in angry mood.

A lake sailor is every bit as brave and resourceful, loyal and heroic, as any ocean sailor and the captains, although confined to shorter routes, face and surmount as many emergencies.

Early Movement for Christmas Trade

THERE will be an early movement for Christmas trade this year. On all sides one sees stimulation of the idea urging early shopping.

Street decorations are being placed in Minneapolis. St. Paul will start early with its program. Take Red Wing, a town near the size of Brainerd.

Red Wing business men are arranging a formal opening for the Christmas shopping season on December 3. A special Christmas program of decoration of streets and public buildings is being arranged and two visits of Santa Claus have been assured.

REPORTS indicate turkeys will be plentiful for Thanksgiving and the prices fair. Farmers in the vicinity of Brainerd are sending notices to town people of the turkeys they have and of arrangements to deliver them.

A NEW YORK couple went up in the clouds to be married. The average couple is up in the air at that time whether voyaging by plane or treading the ground.

WE have heard something about the eternal hills, but that does not seem to apply to the marital experiences of Walter Hill, whose third wife is suing for divorce.

A CONFERENCE of the young people's division of the Mille Lacs County Council of Religious Education will be held at Milaca on November 30.

AMERICAN shipyards are to hum with activity. The U. S. is to build 40 trade ships within 10 years.

THE General Manganese corporation is to build a small concentrating plant in South Dakota.

REP. OPSAHL OUTLINES STATE GOV. AT SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB MEETING

PROGRAM AND BUSINESS MEETING TAKE UP REMAINDER OF MEETING

"Friendship with interesting people is the biggest pay of a representative or senator," remarked Rep. A. M. Opsahl, while speaking to the members of the Social Science Club last Tuesday evening.

Mr. Opsahl gave a very complete resume of the three departments of state government, carefully explaining the manner of election, powers and duties of each house. He stated that out of 1,400 bills introduced into the house during the last session, only about 300 became laws.

The club deeply appreciated Mr. Opsahl's kindness and interest in responding to questions asked by the students. In reply to one inquiry, he gave the exact procedure of a day in the legislature, and stated that the actual work of the government is not done in the legislative chambers, but is accomplished in committee meetings. Such committee meetings of the senate and house are held in the opposite half of the day from which the chamber session convenes.

In the business meeting also held Thursday evening, the club unanimously voted in favor of providing a Christmas basket for some poor family of the city. Each member is expected to contribute at least fifteen cents toward the fund. Any funds remaining after the family had been adequately provided for, will go toward making an enjoyable Christmas for the patients of the Deerwood Sanatorium.

A delightful program was given with the assistance of several persons outside of the club as well as by members. Howard Giles, a graduate of the class of '29, rendered two trombone solos, with Miss Rickard accompanying him at the piano. Community singing was led by Miss Ruthe, with the aid of Edith Frost, pianist. Another feature of the program was a humorous reading by Ardelle Persson.

At its next meeting on the second Tuesday of December, the club will be shown through the Court House by W. A. M. Johnstone, clerk of court.

Margaret Schley Tells of Country Teaching

Margaret Schley, teacher of District 15, tells of her experiences at her first school assignment.

Every day of teaching has held a special interest for me. School began the fourth of September, with thirty-two pupils. I have always been kept busy. The children are hardworking and are very pleasant to work with.

We have a P. T. A. in our community in which I am greatly interested, for it is a help to every teacher to become acquainted with the parents of her pupils. It brings about a better understanding between parents and the teacher.

One feature of interest was our Hallowe'en program. We had worked hard, with good results. We are now arranging for a play in which graduates of this school will take part.

It is my belief that even a teacher can learn a lesson from each one of her pupils. It is a great pleasure to teach.

45 GIRLS IN SPECIAL TUESDAY CHORUS

Miss Rickard's Tuesday night glee club is now preparing for the Thanksgiving program.

The important thing in which all the glee clubs are now interested is the operetta to be given next spring in the new high school auditorium.

The total number in this chorus is 45. There are five more this year than last. The following are members:

RED CROSS DRIVE NETS FIFTY-SEVEN DOLLARS

Freshmen and Sophomores responded nobly to the annual Red Cross drive in the high school. They showed a greater interest than the upper classmen. Fifty-seven dollars was the amount contributed which is three dollars less than last year. Our sacrifice faculty was 100 per cent, as were the rooms of Miss Haug, Mr. Johnson, Miss Graham, Miss Laipille, Miss O'Brien, Miss Herwig, and Miss Ruthe, and both assemblies. We have for better cooperation next year, Juniors and Seniors.

LATIN PROGRAM GIVEN BY CICERO CLASS FRI.

Instead of a six weeks' quiz last Friday, Miss O'Brien's Cicero class spent an enjoyable first period listening to a program concerning Rome at the time of the Catilinarian uprising.

First on the program, Cataline's speech of defiance, given when he was asked to leave Rome, was read by Stewart Patterson, and afterwards an article in defense of Cataline was read by Miss O'Brien. The trial of the conspirators was to have been acted out also but as Cicero, the main figure in the trial, failed to appear, this part of the program was dropped.

English IV Contracts In Chaucer Completed

Much originality and hard work was shown by Miss Mathis's and Miss Walkup's English IV students on their contracts on the Canterbury Tales. Canterbury Pilgrims, Talbot Inn, drawings, and very good themes were made to acquire the number of credits necessary for the A or B contracts.

Two of the most outstanding drawings were the Canterbury Pilgrims, and The Talbot Inn, by Martin Olson and Gaylord Kinney, respectively.

Adolf Erickson, Howard Beggs, Ardelle Persson, Evelyn Grimstad and Hazel Persson showed their architectural ability in constructing miniature Talbot Inns.

Woolworth's doll counter was rushed by a few girls who dressed them as Canterbury Pilgrims. Twenty-five students undertook the A contract.

A Shakespeare contract will finish the first semester's work.

CONVENTION DELEGATES INSPECT REFORMATORY

Visiting the state reformatory proved to be an extra item of interest for those attending the Press convention.

The five delegates and Miss Tornstrom from Brainerd with about 15 others were taken through during dinner time and therefore had an opportunity to see the boys cooking and serving dinner.

The guide explained how the boys were taken care of, each boy being assigned certain work and in this way learn a trade while there.

All the boys clothes, even their shoes, are made by the inmates at the reformatory.

They also publish and print their own paper, "The Reformatory Pillar," and in this way obtain an education in newspaper work. "The Reformatory Pillar" is on the exchange files in Miss Tornstrom's office and anyone interested may inspect it.

The inmates have a baseball field where they play kittenball and baseball on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

The reformatory also has a band and Glee club which give interesting programs in the evening.

Regardless of the activities and pleasures the boys may have, discipline, the lack of freedom, and the stigma attached to the inmates all make us desire to stay outside the confines of the institution.

BIRD STUDY TAKEN UP IN BIOLOGY CLASSES

Living animals and those who have lived, appeared last week before the biology classes of both Miss Laipille and Miss Farranckop.

A stuffed pheasant was furnished by Lee Clarkson. Mrs. Mahood sent her pet canary, and a stuffed owl was lent by Elmer Van Syckle. These things helped to make the class periods more interesting.

Learning the life histories of these and similar birds helped to make the periods interesting. The boys of course, had an extremely exciting time with Mrs. Mahood's live canary. This study will be resumed in the spring by jaunts to the woods, hikes, and other interesting things.

If by chance students happen to stray into Miss Olson's room, the English III instructor, they would notice various posters displayed on the wall. He would see a large poster representing Lincoln and illustrating the poem, "Lincoln the Man of the People" by Edwin M. Markham made by Rose Johnson and also other attractive posters made by Kenneth Stinson, Louise Clausen, and Jeanette Jacobson. Ruth Fallquist also made a very colorful poster.

EXCHANGE

A copy of the Crosironite, the new publication of the Crosby-Ironton high school, was received last week. This is the first time that C.-I. has printed a paper and we wish them success in their first journalistic venture.

Tommy: Did you ever take chloroform?
Johnny: No, who teaches it?
—Lincoln Torch, Lake City, Minn.

Sign (beside a brook): Don't fish here.
Passerby (after reading the sign): "Hanged if I know."

THERE'S A HOT TIME COMING

MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM TO BE GIVEN FOR SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Carrol Guin Selected On All-Central Eleven

An honor any athlete would be proud to have, that of gaining a position on the mythical All-Central Minnesota football team was given to none other than Carrol Guin, one of the Blue and White's most aggressive athletes.

The selection was made after 73 coaches balloted for a first, second and honorable mention squad. The territory from which the teams have been selected comprises about one-third of the entire state, being bounded on the north by a line drawn through Moose Lake, Aitkin, Wadena, and Breckenridge, and on the south by a line through Hastings, Glencoe, Montevideo, and Madison. The east and west borders are the boundaries of the state.

The size of the above district, no doubt convinces one of the distinction of being placed on the first team. Other outstanding achievements of Carrol include placing in the all-district football and basketball teams and in 1928 and on the All-Regional Case squad selected at Alexandria following the tournament.

Semper Paratus Club Plans Christmas Party

A Christmas party with the traditional tree, decorations, candy, presents, and fine program is scheduled for the next meeting of the Semper Paratus club Thursday, December 19.

At Miss Tornstrom's suggestion a short play will be given at each meeting to enable every student to improve in the art of dramatizing. "Pyramus and Thisby" and "Captain Long John Silver" are to be presented by various members at the coming program.

The cast for "Pyramus and Thisby" coached by Miss Mathis includes: Pyramus, Dick Ebert; Thisby, Marjorie Forsberg; Wall, Adolf Erickson; Moonshine, Robert Hanson; Prologue, Alice Nolan.

Under Miss Walkup's able direction, this cast will present "Captain Long John Silver," a skit from "Treasure Island." Long John Silver, Ross Olmsted; Smollet, Zane Smith; Stevenson, Adolf Erickson.

Four Campfire Girls Work for High Ranks

Marie Rou, Bernice Steinfeldt, Margaret Casey, Mardelle McGaffigan and Evangeline Twist who are working for their Firemaker and Torchbearer ranks served a 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday to the 14 campfire girls, at the Steinfeldt home.

The group decided on their choice for a national flower, at the meeting which was held after dinner. The wild rose received the largest number of votes and the columbine was favored by some. Bernice Steinfeldt gave a reading entitled "If," and the group sang "Mammy Moon."

If you hear any unhuman noises coming from the bottom of the City Hall, don't be alarmed. It is just the French I students pronouncing the French names of birds, beasts and fishes. One of the favorite jokes of these humorous pupils is to ask someone, "Voulez-vous manger un chat?" Pray be cautious when you answer for this means in English, "Do you eat cat?"

TORCH CLUB SELECTS DELEGATE TO O. B. C.

To select a delegate for the Older Boys Conference which was held at Fergus Falls Nov. 15 to 17 was the main topic discussed by the Torch Club at its last meeting at the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock. After much deliberation they decided to send William Johnson to represent them. They also decided to devote a part of their meeting to Bible study which they call their Bible hour. Business took up the remainder of the meeting.

According to Mr. Molstad, a specialist is one who knows more and more about less and less. A student who attends high school is one who knows less and less about more and more. (Mr. Molstad is a Brainerdite. He is a member of the high school faculty at Upsala.)

What does Thanksgiving mean to you? From outside appearance it means a holiday from school and work and a big dinner. This is the incorrect idea, which so many people have. Thanksgiving is a day when every one should give thanks to the Great Provider for all he has given us during the past year. Be optimistic no matter how bad things seem; remember they might have been worse. Observe Thanksgiving this year as the Pilgrims did by offering thanks for all of the many things you have received.

A great number of papers from surrounding schools and colleges, are hanging on the wall over in the office in the old court house. They're placed there for you to look them over.

MRS. I. G. HEALD SUGGESTS THE PAINTING OF HISTORICAL EVENT AS CLASS MEMORIAL

"Midsummer Night's Dream," a Shakespearean phantasy, is to be presented by the Senior class in the new high school auditorium, according to a decision reached by the class organization at a meeting held in the City Hall last Wednesday. This presentation is to be the annual class play and will be more pretentious than plays of former years because of the facilities the new high school affords.

At this same meeting, Mrs. J. G. Heald, artist, suggested that the class leave a memorial in the form of a painting concerned with some historical event connected with Crow Wing county. Other classes might add pictures and thus the high school might have a complete collection. Hattie Zawadzki, Claude Holden and David Weber were appointed by the president, Clarence Holden, to comprise a committee for the purpose of considering this suggestion.

To continue a regular feature, the class voted to have a Christmas banquet to be held December fifteenth, the place for which is to be decided later. Dues must be paid before class members can attend the banquet.

It is a custom for the Senior class to care for a poor family at Christmas and this will be carried out this year. The class has a great many activities to anticipate and to do all these things it requires dues, so once again pay your dues. The rings and pins will arrive some time in the future.

CONTRACTS IN SOCIAL SCIENCE FINISHED FRI.

Contracts in Miss Herwig's Social Science classes proved a huge success the last ones being handed in Friday. The points in the contract were a choice of one:

1. Answer 150 questions from the book.
2. Answer 2 discussion questions from each chapter.
3. Outline all but 2 chapters in the book.
4. Review a book or magazine pertaining to civics.
5. Diagram of national, state, county or city government.
6. Make a diagram of Brainerd or an ideal city.

Certainly outlines such as handed in by Adolf Erickson, Mae Taylor, Edith Frost, Roger Callahan, Patricia Zwicky, Onole Lewis, Lillian Fox, Oscar Severson, Lillian Otterstad, and Mildred Gustafson, must have increased the writer's knowledge a great deal.

Of the maps handed in perhaps the one drawn by Ross Olmsted would have attracted the most attention, it being the most realistic. Richard Hebert's Utopia proved to be just plain Barrows but greatly built up (maybe the mines started going again) with Tornstrom and Cobb avenues being the most prominent.

Charts which were by Clarence Holden, Claude Holden and Roland Jenkins were very excellent and anyone who has seen them will agree.

Speaking about declamation work after reading over various school papers it is noticed that Brainerd high school students do not stand alone in their enthusiasm for this kind of work.

COMING OR GOING WE CATCH 'EM

We think Dwight Curo is going to be an aviator if the number of paper airplanes he was seen making and flying around for Miss Walkup has anything to do with it. Upon inquiry it developed that Dwight had been a bad boy in history class.

Edman Jernberg went to Duluth on Friday evening to visit friends and relatives.

Miss Walkup spent the week-end in Minneapolis, where she attended the Wisconsin-Minnesota football game.

Marie Ryan left for Duluth Friday evening in the company of her family. The Ryans will make their future home in Duluth.

Arthur Hickerson, Leroy Wyett and John Hoffbauer, Jr., attended the Minnesota-Wisconsin football game at Minneapolis Saturday.

Kathleen Cardle confidentially informed us that she was afraid she wasn't going to get that new jacket for Christmas because David Weber told her that Santa Claus lost his reindeer in the recent stock market crash and that he'd have to depend on the Elks this year.

Irvin Hermann, who was accidentally shot in the back while hunting, is doing nicely and will be back at school next week.

NAGURSKI, TANNER ON UNITED PRESS ALL BIG 10 TEAM

BRAINERD INDEPENDENT CAGE TEAM BEING FORMED

PHARMER MAKES SECOND TEAM SELECTED BY U. P.

BROCKMEYER IS NAMED AS A QUARTERBACK OF THIRD TEAM OF U. P.

BRONKO MAY HAVE BEEN NAMED ALL-CONFERENCE AT FULLBACK OR TACKLE

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Outside of a few outstanding stars, an attempt to choose between Big Ten football players is as complex a problem as picking out the pea in a shell game.

To get the best information possible, the United Press has consulted coaches, football experts and has taken the consensus of its own men who have been covering games all season.

Fortunately for one who is assessed with the task of picking an All-Big Ten eleven for 1929, there are four or five outstanding players about whom there can be little argument, but the rest of the team presents its problems.

Few will deny that Bronko Nagurski deserves a place on the team; that Harneson, Welch and Sleight of Purdue must be picked; that Bill Glasgow of Iowa is deserving of his place.

But take the center position, where three men—Weaver, Chicago; Erickson, Northwestern; and Kaval, Illinois—all have played well, though none is great.

If Kaval had played in early season as he did in late games he would have had the call, but he didn't. Weaver, a guard, was shifted to center, playing a great game and is deserving of credit but for all-around play he does not seem to have been the equal of Mickey Erickson of Northwestern. A bear on defense and a smart player at intercepting forward passes (the intercepted passes in at least four important games this year) Erickson played fine offensive ball, was a good passer and seems the best of the trio.

Three or four guards might put their oars into the pond. Parks, Wisconsin, and Roberts, Iowa, seem to have played the better football although Crane, Illinois, and Anderson, Northwestern, might dispute this. Roberts, one of the lightest guards in the conference, is looked upon by coaches as one of the best. He has played steady football all year and climaxed his play with great work late in the season. Parks was one of the few Wisconsin linemen who usually threw opposing backs for losses.

The tackles present a problem because of Bronko Nagurski, the great Minnesotan. Bronko played tackle part of the year, then he played fullback and it isn't amiss to say that he might be chosen all-conference at either position.

But since a tackle always can be pulled back for a line plunge when a couple of yards are needed or a man is needed to throw a pass, it seems best to put Nagurski in the line and a triple threat man in the fullback position.

At the other tackle position Sleight of Purdue fits. If ever a tackle stayed on his feet during a hard season, Sleight did it while Purdue was winning the Big Ten title. He was good at everything.

The ends present little argument. Fessler of Ohio State and Tanner of Minnesota have everything required of ends. They seem to have overshadowed other wing men.

The backfield brings up the problem of a quarterback, but by switching Harneson from fullback to quarterback that problem is solved. Harneson played quarter before becoming a fullback and he was a good one. His fine work this year as a halfback entitles him to a position in the backfield, and it must be at quarterback for Pest Welch and Bill Glasgow are as sweet a pair of halfbacks as any coach could desire. Welch can do everything. So can Glasgow. Glasgow's kicking ability makes him one of the most feared men in the country. He seldom drops back for a punt and that's why his surprise kicks have gone over the heads of many safeties during the year. He wore an iron protector over his broken jaw all year and still performed brilliantly. There are few better backs than Bill and the same applies to Welch.

At fullback, Russell Berghem, Northwestern, gets the call. As a triple threat man, he is invaluable. He can pass like a bullet, can skirt an end as well as plunge a line and kick as well as the best of them. They didn't think he could play defense against a strong attack but he showed he could in the Notre Dame game.

As usual, injuries kept two or three of the players out of all Big Ten competition. Henry Brauder of Northwestern undoubtedly would have been a serious backfield threat had he not have received a broken leg early in the season, and Eb Caraway of Purdue would have been a leading end if it hadn't been for a broken shoulder.

NOTRE DAME NOT AFTER MYTHICAL NATIONAL TITLE

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Coach Knute Rockne has announced that the Notre Dame season will be over when his team meets Army in New York Saturday.

There was some belief that Notre Dame might accept an invitation to play in the Tournament of Roses game in California on New Year's day but Rockne's announcement seems to preclude any possibility of this.

"We have played enough football when we finish our schedule," Rockne said. "A mythical national football title is something which has been created but we play football for the sport."

VAN' CAFE INCREASE LEAD IN STRAIGHTAWAY

WHITEWASHED THE ALDERMAN MAGHAN FIVE IN LAST NIGHT'S PLAYING

DE ROCHER ROLLED NICE TOTAL OF 586 FOR HIGH TOTAL IN MATCH

Van's Cafe increased their lead in the Straightaway League last evening by white-washing the Alderman-Maghan five; however, DeRocher rolled a nice count of 586 for high total in this match. Van Essen was a close second with 583, and Ziebell 561. The hardware team, although arrayed in new shirts of white with the Alderman-Maghan insignia, failed to hit their stride, whereas Van's team rolled their usual good games.

Lively Auto cracked the maples for two big counts of 920 and 973, the latter being high team game for the year. They made it two out of three from Peterson Clothing Co. Johnson rolled high count for the evening, 245, which heaped up a big 607 total, trailing Piffner's 616 by only a few pins for season's high total. Hagberg with 569 and Block's 558 were the only other 500 bowlers in this match.

Tonight Brainerd Electric meets the Eye Clothing Co. and the Study Club bowls the Princess Candies.

Odd Tropical Fishes

The most beautiful of tropical sea-folk is the moonfish, often called the ghostfish because of its paper-thin form of a silvery color. The angelfish is as gaily colored as the rainbow and with long, trailing fins of contrasting tints. The squirrelfish flaunts a deep coral shade and great dark eyes. The parrotfish attracts attention as much by its gorgeous colorings of turquoise blue, plum purple, or bright green as by the peculiar bony beak.

Poisonous Fish

Armed with spikes which contain a deadly poison, a fish found in the Great Barrier of Australia has the power of killing human beings. It is known as the stone fish and is repulsive in appearance.

Chalk Eaten by Patients

Beachy Head is being swallowed by patients at St. Thomas hospital, London, at the rate of two tons a year. The chalk of this famous cliff has reduced the number of operations for the relief of certain stomach troubles.

Roger Williams' Statue

The date of placing the statue of Roger Williams in Statuary hall is 1870. It was one of the first statues placed in Statuary hall.

RUSSELL GLOBE TROTTERS BEGIN PRACTICE SOON

TEAM TO BE BACKED BY RUSSELL COMPANY; L. PETERSON, MANAGER

POSSIBILITY OF FOUR INDEPENDENT TEAMS AND CITY BASE-KETBALL LEAGUE

It was announced today that the Russell Creamery Company would back an independent basketball team in Brainerd this year. The team will probably be known as the Russell Globe Trotters and will be under the management of Lester Peterson, former Brainerd high school star, who has been managing independent teams since his graduation from high school several years ago.

At present Mr. Peterson is busy arranging a schedule for the club. According to all indications the schedule will be a long and difficult one, featured by a long road trip. All home games will be played in the new high school gym.

The first practice will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Dec. 3 at 7:30 P. M. All candidates trying out for positions on the squad are requested to report at that time. A number of last year's veterans are expected to be there to compete with a host of newcomers that will try for places.

Montgomery Ward & Co. has already begun extensive preparations for a long basketball schedule and the J. C. Penney Company and another local organization are reported as contemplating forming teams.

It is thought that these teams will form a city independent league as well as meeting high class independent teams from the surrounding cities.

JADICK SCORES TECHNICAL K. O. OVER KING TUT

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—(U.P.)—Johnny Jadick, Philadelphia lightweight, scored a technical knock-out over King Tut, Minneapolis, in the seventh round last night when Dr. Abe Baron, representing the Pennsylvania Athletic commission, ordered the bout halted.

Dr. Baron ruled that Tut's left eye was so badly cut that the bout could not be allowed to continue. Protests of more than 7,000 fans and of Tut's manager and seconds failed to change the decision of Dr. Baron.

Tut took a bad beating in the early rounds, but rallied to win the fifth and sixth and many believed he might have won had the bout gone the limit.

"The Masked Hostess"

by BLAIR STEVENSON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

Upon the death of her father, "Happy Jack" Van Slaick, once wealthy sportsman and social leader, Nathalie Van Slaick, young and beautiful, finds herself left a few dollars and an old abandoned Long Island estate called "The Firs." After being coldly repulsed by her rich aunt, Mrs. Pemberton Swayne, Nathalie in desperation cashes a check for $500 for which there are no funds. Without her knowledge, John Sloan, young lawyer, assigned to her affairs, makes the check good. Fearing that a detective is trailing her, Nathalie leaves a train at Brookville, Long Island. From the president of the local bank, a mercenary Shylock, who holds the mortgage on "The Firs," which he desires because the new state road will enhance its value, Nathalie accepts a strange proposition. It is to act as hostess at "The Firs," which is to be rented to a wealthy South American who wishes to entertain his friends. On the condition that her identity remain hidden by wearing a silken mask, Nathalie meets the handsome foreigner, who turns out to be Capt. Ramon Stefano, supposedly of great wealth and much sought after by the young smart set. He does not know that he has previously met her. Nathalie, with a black transformation and Spanish costume and the mask, is unrecognizable. Sloan, in love with Nathalie, warns her of the danger she will be in due to the romantic nature of herself and Stefano. Neither of them realizes that Stefano is without funds and is being supported in this venture by a mysterious ex-policeman engaged in shady deals. This man, Ferris, had previously trailed Nathalie seeking her estate. He finances Stefano in his strange venture, hoping to draw a visit from Nathalie. The opening of "The Firs," completely remodeled and furnished and with a staff of servants, is an outstanding social success. The wealthy Long Island crowd are intrigued by the Masked Hostess. Most of them are old friends of her own set, but Nathalie's disguise is not penetrated. Stefano keeps his word not to seek out Nathalie's identity. She sleeps in the house behind a solid steel door. The next night he gives her a revolver for protection.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.)

CHAPTER XVIII.

"WELL, one must be getting on, what? Mustn't be late where one's dining. The unpardonable sin, that. See you at midnight, yes? Right-o."

She was unable to speak at all. He walked to the door of the room ahead of her, and along the hall leading from it to the farther door leading out of the house. The groom who had his horse was holding it there. She heard him speak to the man, then the horse's hoofs go in quick leaps along the carriage sweep to the road outside. There rider and horse turned and were gone in a furious gallop of which the rhythm-beat sounded in her ears unceasingly till she saw him again.

Fairmount (Monty) Delaine, hopeful and high-hearted scion of the land poor Delaine, was the first guest on the ground as the high clock in the hall of The Firs struck the hour of midnight.

He came with his host, Stefano having picked him up at Piping Rock and taken him along in his car as a buffer to have between him and Nathalie when they should meet again after their hour of deep emotion in the early evening.

Stefano was, as usual, fully his own man. His eyes rested a little hungrily on Nathalie for the smallest part of a second; then roved away again.

Nathalie, in flame color and with a Spanish comb in her hair, sat at her carmine lips as Stefano came in. Then she too gaily to Monty-Delaine, who at once demanded a pick-me-up.

He had had a hard day, he said. Those who knew him well understood that he had been inebriated and sobered several times in the course of it. He was in one of his practically sober phases as he talked to Nathalie, the open car ride with Stefano having, as he explained cheerfully, "aerated" his brain.

"Take it from old Monty—a grilling business day. Met a man at Mineola, head all clear, at nine o'clock. Head-boiled egg. Looked like a bootlegger, but a real estate -- Tough baby. Bears watch -- and eggs with him —then a few drinks. Heard his proposition. Nothing good enough. A few more drinks and got down to brass tacks. Better proposition from him but still not good enough by thirty thousand dollars. So business being temporarily laid aside we had a couple more drinks and then a deadliest last and the meeting adjourned. Says he'll be back in two days and means it. I never do business except on a clear head. Here's how Ramon—looking at you, Senora. Drink it down."

Yet for all his variegated day his linen was spotless and his dress jacket as though it had just come from his valet—he had none—and though he was saturated in alcohol he was kindly and humorous and charming. Subsequently as the night went forward he moved up beside Nathalie several times—he had the curiously retentive memory of some hard drinkers—and reminded her to beware of Mrs. Pemberton Swayne and not get in too close quarters with her. "But remember," he insisted each time, "needn't be afraid of her. I'm behind you."

Nathalie's mask was taken as a matter of course on this second night of her hostess-ship and as a flood tide of guests poured in from right after midnight she was again the ruling star in the firmament of them. The crowd was much the same as the night before, the two girls she had seen carried to their cars that morning being among the first to appear. Both were as fresh and fair looking as though their night preceding had been spent in nursery play. Two minutes after they were in the house each had a stiff highball in her hand.

Stefano's general invitation of the night before had apparently been relayed in all directions, for there were many new faces and about half of them, as on the preceding night, those of people Nathalie knew well. Some of them were related to her, if not closely. Many were of families intermarried with her own family or with collateral branches of it. But of them all not a single soul beheld her with the eyes of recognition.

But she knew, from the eyes which watched her and from the expressions of faces and scraps of talk which were hushed when she moved within hearing of them, that she was the high topic of discussion and that the novelty and mystery of her would increase with every fresh night of her appearance. People who are bred alike know their own. In the manner of everyone there was a concession to the comprehension that she was no professional dancer nor hired entertainer—but of their own stripe, whatever her identity or nationality.

The dancing floors were jammed by two o'clock, the musicians at their apex and the trays of liquors being borne steadily in and out. It was then she began to wonder if Stefano was to be her partner at all or if he was purposely avoiding asking her to dance. A girl near her mentioned the name of John Sloan, spoke it as though she knew him very well, and Nathalie turned swiftly to see who it was who had said it. But the girl was gone, in the whirl of the dance somewhere, and her interest in Sloan, whatever it might be, was not for Nathalie to know unless she should still be talking of him when she came dancing again.

But his name reminded her of the fir trees hedged close about the house, and Monty Delaine, who was dancing with her, suddenly abandoning her and wandering unsteadily after a servant he saw with a tray of drinks, she slipped out of doors by a long window she knew of and which opened on a side of the house from a room which lay across the hall from the long rooms where the dancing couples thronged the floors.

It was dark and quiet on the rotting ground level balcony on which she stood. None of the headlights of the many cars parked everywhere in the grounds pierced to it for first screened it close.

She told herself, as she stood in the dark tree-scented air, that she was not thinking of Sloan, nor of Stefano, but only of the peace and dark and the stir of trees.

She felt rather than heard a step come through the window and knew it would be Stefano. He was standing beside her. She did not speak nor did he. He did not lay a hand on her nor move a trace nearer as they stood there, in the dark and alone with the trees above and before them and the crash of music behind them in the lighted house.

It was she who broke the spell of minutes, turning as if to pass him and go in. He stepped back, meaning to let her pass and trying to. But he could not. He touched her lightly and murmured, "Ah, no," as if to himself. Then she was in his arms.

He held her and until his lips touched her cheek she did not resist. Then she broke free and he let her go; but he was right behind her when she regained the hall and his hand was on her shoulder as she was revealed in the lights of the first of the dancing rooms. Swiftly his arms were about her again and he was dancing with her among the others.

They went around the room; and then around it again. Neither looked at the other. They were in a condition of content and tranquil happiness as complete as though they were still out under the firs, though dancers crowded them close and laughter and the clash of the band were all about them.

Some one staggered against Nathalie. "Me, Senora," said a voice in her ear, Monty Delaine's. "All right. I'm behind you."

"And I as well," said Stefano and pressed her. "In all honor and devotion. And may death take me if I fail in the last word of the one or the other."

Sophomore Sensations

BURNLEY 11-26

THOSE second-year men in four-year college courses certainly rushed to the varsity football in spectacular style this season. Nearly every notable team has one or more genuine sophomore stars. It is the custom of coaches to depend on second-year men as mere understudies for junior and senior talent, but when a freshman proves extraordinarily able he just must make the varsity grade in his sophomore year.

Of course, the most striking specimen of sophomore grid sensations is Yale's Albie Booth, easily the most talked-of player since "Red" Grange first flamed at Illinois. As a freshman last year, Booth was a wonder, and this season he was helped by the national spotlight of midseasonal "duels" with the great Cagle of the Army and the equally great Marsters of Dartmouth.

Naturally, every fan has heard of Old Eli's midgrid marvel, so much so that many have missed learning of other almost as thrilling sophomores. Ralph Hewitt, of Columbia, for example. He was great as a freshman back. Prior to that he was a schoolboy superstar at Worcester Prep. With a comparatively weak team, Hewitt still managed to show that he is of All-American calibre.

Johnny Branch, North Carolina quarterback, is another truly remarkable sophomore, as is "Red" Leonard, Vanderbilt; "Shipwreck" Kelly, Kentucky; and "Dent Em" Haidrick, of Tennessee—just to mention a few young backs. "Doug" Graydon (shades of Harvard's historic "Blondy"), of Georgia Tech., is another second-yearling who may prove another Wyckoff with 1930 and '31 Golden Tornadoes.

Copyright 1929 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Constantly improved systems of coaching freshmen teams and modification of the ancient prejudice against sophomore talent accounts largely, the Sport Bug believes, for the prolific production of second-year football stars.

Just think of Harvard with these soph sensations: Wood, May, Devens and Frank Gilligan!

NATURAL 100% BRAN
FAVORED BY DOCTORS93% of Group of Physicians
Express Preference

Every man or woman who suffers from atonic constipation will find really helpful advice in the words of this group of physicians.

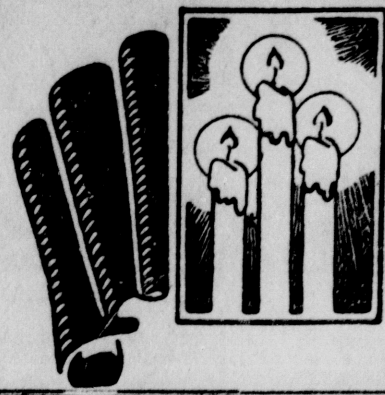

Not long ago ten thousand doctors were asked this question, "Do you believe that raw, natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?" 93% of the answers were "Yes."

Here is expert opinion. Do you suffer from bowel irregularity resulting from intestinal sluggishness? Are you troubled with headaches, lassitude, sleeplessness, nervousness, sallowness, loss of vitality, and the increased susceptibility to serious disease which result from constipation? You need natural 100% bran. Your grocer has it—Pillsbury's Bran, natural 100% bran, nothing added, nothing taken away.

Pillsbury's Bran supplies the roughage which is so necessary nowadays. Primitive man had roughage in his ordinary diet, and had no constipation. Modern man should add roughage to his soft food—should add it every day.

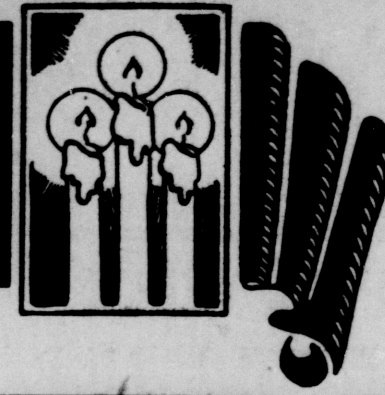

Pillsbury's Bran is roughage in a most effective form. You can use it to prepare many delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you use Pillsbury's Bran, you may be sure you are getting the right kind of bran—natural 100% bran, recommended by this overwhelming majority of physicians.

WHITE'S VERDICT TOTALS $9,172.99

Jury Deliberates Seven Hours 35 Minutes in Action Deciding Injured Boy's Damages

ANOTHER ACCIDENT CASE ON

Mrs. Florence Erickson Asks $10,000 Damages From Northland, Tee Pee Oil Co.

Henry R. White, as father of Robert White, a minor, was awarded $8,000 by a Crow Wing county jury last evening in his action against the Brainerd Service Motor Co. for injuries to his son received in an automobile accident near St. Cloud on highway No. 27 last year.

Mr. White was further awarded $1,172.99 by the jury for medical and hospital expenses to his son as a result of the accident.

The jury left the court room at 1:15 p. m. yesterday returning at 8:50 p. m.

Robert White was injured when the car he was riding in overturned in the ditch after crashing through a guard rail. He suffered a fracture at the base of the pelvis and additional injuries.

Robert Anderson, Brainerd, was driving the car at the time while Ray Anderson, another Brainerd young man was also an occupant. All Brainerd boys were injured, White being the most serious of the three. White and Ray Anderson are students at the University of Minnesota.

The car driven by Robert Anderson was the property of the Brainerd Service Motor Co. It was badly damaged.

The third suit for damages following vehicle accidents entered its second day in district court today, being that of Florence Erickson, Ironton, vs. The Northland Transportation Co. and W. P. Tyndholm and B. C. Pukerabek as co-partners in The Tee Pee Oil Co.

Mrs. Erickson asks $10,000 damages for injuries she alleges she sustained when a bus in which she was a passenger collided with the Tee Pee Oil Co. truck two miles east of Brainerd on the Oak street highway on August 21, 1929. She claims she suffered severe cuts and bruises of the chest, right leg, knee and thigh, and bruises to her right arm and about the head, neck, abdomen, and side of body.

She is represented by Attorneys W. J. Swanson and G. S. Swanson, Brainerd. Examination and cross examination of witnesses is being conducted for the plaintiff by the former.

J. H. Mulally, Minneapolis and C. A. Ryan, Brainerd are attorneys for the Northland Transportation Co. while L. K. Eaton, Minneapolis and Arthur J. Sullivan are acting as legal counsel for The Tee Pee Oil Co.

JOINT MEETING OF THREE CLUBS HELD

Tri-Hi, Junior Hi-Y and Senior Hi-Y Enjoy Supper and Program

Seventy-five high school students who are members of the Tri-Hi, Junior Hi-Y and the Senior Hi-Y sat down to a supper last evening in the club room of the "Y" for the first joint meeting of the year, which proved to be a great success. Messrs. Melby and R. L. Penrose of the high school faculty and Mrs. Penrose were present with the clubs with which they are leaders. After a bounteous supper served by a committee of the girls, a reading by Marjorie Forsberg, and the introductions, Rev. A. G. Patterson was called on for the main address of the evening.

An introduction to the great book and the contents of the first few pages which are so important to a thorough understanding of the Bible was stressed by Rev. Patterson. He showed clearly how this historical background of God's chosen people at that time is so essential to an understanding of the later account of the Bible and its purpose, especially the new testament. Rev. Patterson's fiery and well chosen message to the young people received the strictest attention and interest.

AMERICAN BUSINESS IS ON BOUND BASIS, SAYS J. C. PENNEY

True Economic Strength of Business Life of This Country Demonstrated

INDUSTRY UNAFFECTED

Credit Power of Country, Earning Power Shows no Impairment

"The basic soundness of American industry, the true economic strength of the business life of this country, and the genuineness of its prosperity have been convincingly demonstrated during the past few weeks," says J. C. Penney, chairman-of-the-board of the J. C. Penney Co.

"A readjustment of market prices on general securities has been going on. Heavy market losses, accompanied in a large number of individual cases by the actual loss of accumulated fortunes, have taken place.

"Quoted prices on securities have tumbled at a rate which in years past would have brought about a panic, stifled industry, and wrought havoc with the credit and earning power of the country.

"No panic has occurred, industry has kept steadily on with many new records for output and for sales being made, the credit of the country and the earning power of the country have both shown no impairment, great manufacturing organizations, in place of closing down, are declaring extra dividends out of increasing earnings.

"Retail sales organizations are preparing for good business during the next few weeks and these preparations are based on a sound analysis of what the holiday season will bring forth in the way of purchasing on the part of the general public.

"For the first time in the history of American finance, a condition of panic in the stock market has failed to produce a condition of panic or near panic in industry and in business.

"Actual losses have been confined to those who were indulging in speculative purchasing of stocks which were admittedly overpriced. The actual number of people who have lost money, or who will in any way be directly influenced by such losses, is so small as to be almost negligible, when compared with the total population of the country.

"I have recently returned from an extended trip through the middle west and southeastern part of the country where I visited farmers, stock breeders, and many typical average American cities.

"In every locality where I stopped, I found optimism and a general feeling of financial security.

"In general, the belief of the country is that sound forces are at work on a program which will bring a more equitable percentage of profits to the producers, without adding to costs paid by the consumers.

"Sound advice has come to the cotton growers and practical assistance is being offered through the Farm Relief Board. The same conditions exist among the grain producers.

"Stockmen are getting the best prices in years with steady demands for all kinds of live stock.

"Many industrial areas are reporting satisfactory activity with good increases in sales volumes. These conditions are reflected in increased local building activities, bank deposits and in a general absence of unemployment.

"A country cannot suffer economically so long as its wealth producing power remains unimpaired. The economic value of the individual is measured by his ability to create wealth, not by his ability to harbor money.

"The stock market's flurry has but impaired the wealth producing ability of the individual or of industry. It has been taken care of by the banking interests without depriving the industrial interests of any of the essential support which they require.

"Your neighbor and my neighbor are earning as much or more than ever before. We are both employed with no indications that this employment is to be taken away from us.

"We are not apprehensive of the ability of our bank to take care of our savings; we are not fearful of the ability of our store keepers to continue to serve our demands. And we are all quite certain that our own town has been singularly unaffected by the situation in the speculative stock market. In the final analysis this means but one thing; the estimate of prosperity which has been set upon this country by its most interested appraisers has been fully justified."

Is Your City One of the 650?

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States sponsors a most effective and well organized activity in the prevention and control of fire. This is known as the National Fire Waste Council.

Six hundred and fifty cities are engaged, in a nation-wide contest in the reduction of fire waste. Through the National Fire Waste Council the combined experience, advice and assistance of architects, credit men, boy scouts, educators, engineers, insurance men and many other groups are made available to any community.

Comprehensive Programs

This work involves modern and scientific fire-fighting apparatus and methods, salvage work, regular inspections, arson investigations, modernized building codes and ordinances, and actuarial facts.

The unusual facilities and information which the Stock Fire Insurance companies provide, have been extensively used in this work and are constantly available, without charge, to any organization, individual or community.

Fire Losses Affect the Community

Chambers of Commerce and similar bodies realize that the prevention of destruction by fire of an existing industrial plant is just as important as the winning of a new enterprise for the community.

When men are put out of work by fire they leave the city or become a community problem such as arises in any locality lacking employment opportunity.

Similar programs on the part of other municipalities and property owners will result in safeguarding life and property in an ever-increasing degree, with consequent effect upon the cost of fire insurance.

MILE ADVANCE
INTO MANCHURIA

Kwangsi troops had reached the border city of Takling and that the Cantonese had threatened an aerial raid on Wuchow not far from Takling. The situation in Wuchow was tense, reports said. United Press advices from Hong Kong today said the H. M. S. Tarantula and the American warship Minahaw were standing by at Wuchow as a precautionary measure. Kwangsi troops are moving down the river towards Canton with little opposition, and authorities saw little danger to foreign residents of Wuchow although preparations were made to evacuate them immediately if necessary.

No More Piles

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. Dr. Leonard's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds because it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has a wonderful record for quick, safe and lasting relief to pile sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee.

A New Door needed on the Back Porch

The Back Door looks a little neglected, doesn't it? For one thing, the screening has rusted and fallen away in spots. Doesn't keep the flies out. And the delivery boys and the ice man have soiled the woodwork. It does look messy. It isn't much of a job to put in new netting and to paint the main door and the frame of the other. Let's get busy. What do you say?

How Weak Nervous
Women Grow Stronger

Feel Better, Look Younger and Have Steadier Nerves

If you only knew—you rundown, anemic women—who are dragging yourself around on your "nerve"—what a wonderful increase in strength and health Tanlac will give you, you wouldn't hesitate a moment about going to your druggist and getting a big bottle of this splendid medicine.

Mrs. C. A. Warner, of 502 First St. South, Aberdeen, S. D., says: "I suffered so from indigestion, kidney trouble and complete breakdown that I was in misery. Tanlac brought wonderful relief and soon had me eating everything. That tired, run-down feeling was over."

Tanlac is as free from harmful drugs as the water you drink—only Nature's own medicinal tonic herbs. Druggists know this and for the past 10 years have recommended it to men and women who need a quick "pick up" that will put them on their feet and give them a new interest in life.

So confident are the makers of Tanlac that if you are not helped by it, you get your money back on request.

OCCIDENT Goes Farther

WHEN you are baking for a large family the fact that Occident Special Patent Flour goes farther—makes more bread to the sack—means a big saving. Use Occident with your favorite recipe but use less of it than ordinary flour. Occident contains a large amount of high quality gluten. It absorbs liquid readily and this extra moisture makes more bread—makes bread that keeps fresh longer.

Insist on getting Occident.
